

0101se^{da}010100
software engineering dependability

Software Engineering Seminar, Summer Semester 2013
An Introduction

Alexander Prohaska
Walid Gannouni

- Alexander Prohaska
 - Room 32-431
 - Email: prohaska@informatik.uni-kl.de
- Walid Gannouni
 - Room 32-431
 - Email: gannouni@informatik.uni-kl.de

- Important dates
- Guidelines for writing a paper
- Rules to be followed
- (Assign topics for students)

- Table of contents of seminar paper: 06.05.
- *Preliminary version of seminar paper: 24.06.
- *Review of two other papers: 08.07.
- *Revised seminar paper: 22.07.
- Dates for seminar presentation will be announced soon.

*Documents need to be sent to the organizers and your topic supervisor

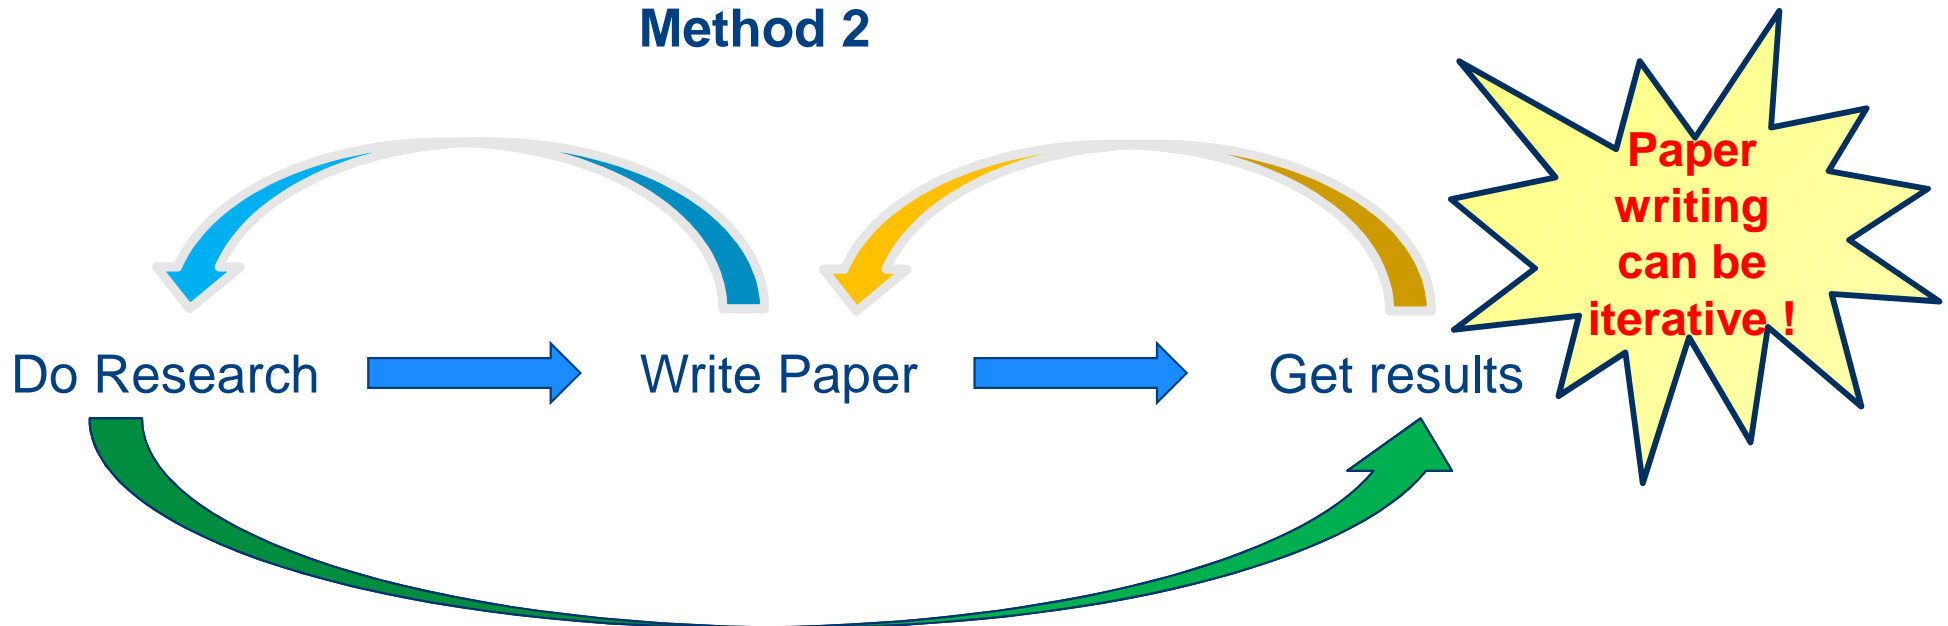

Length of seminar paper:

- 10 pages for Bachelor students
- 15 pages for Master students

Method 1

Method 2

1. Introduction
2. State of Art
3. Your Contribution
4. Experimental Results/Illustration
5. Performance Evaluation
6. Conclusion and Future Work

- SWALES:
 - <http://ienv6202.blogspot.de/2007/05/swales-introduction.html>
 - <http://itee.uq.edu.au/~comp4809/Lectures/Writing%20Intros%20and%20Discussions.pdf>
- Latex:
 - <http://en.wikibooks.org/wiki/LaTeX>
 - Led-Latex editor for Windows: <http://www.latexeditor.org/>
 - MiKTeX open source implementation of LaTeX for Windows: <http://miktex.org/>
- Searching for papers:
 - Starting point: <http://www.ub.uni-kl.de/index.php?id=365&L=1&S=0>
 - Google scholar: <http://scholar.google.com/>

- Plagiarism
- Non-observance of deadlines
- Non-observance of compulsory attendance
- Poorly written paper
- Bad presentation

- Presentation:
 - Bachelor Students: 15 min. presentation 10 min. questions & answers
 - Masters Students: 20 min. presentation 10 min. questions & answers

- Languages:
 - Bachelor: German or English
 - Master: English

That's It

Thank you